3 ???&#0183; In a major step towards advancing Jamaica's renewable energy goals, government has secured approval from the Council for Trade and Economic Development (coted) to suspend the common external tariff (CET) on 91,600 ...

A lithium-ion battery costs between US$7,000 and US$10,000. "People are thinking of using newer technology, but are being held because the Government is seeking to collect revenue over pushing a renewable-energy industry in Jamaica," the woman, who requested anonymity, said.

But, a Barbados-based company has objected to the Government of Jamaica's application of the suspension of the tariff on lithium-ion batteries, indicating, through the Barbados Government, that it produces the type of batteries being requested for CET suspension.
