In many ways, a typical warehouse roof offers the ideal landscape for hosting a solar power system. Not only does it have plenty of square footage to support a lot of solar panels, but it's also high enough off the ground that shade usually isn't a problem. Further, most warehouse roofs are pitched perfectly for catching the sun's rays at various points throughout the day.

But there has been a failure to enable warehouse owners to install solar panels on the roofs of their buildings over the recent decades, which has led to the sector not living up to its potential. The trade association found ...
